ELECTION RUMORS.

News From the Eastern Battlefields.

BOTH PARTIES ARE CONFIDENT.

Republicans Place Fassett's Majoyity at 17,000.

While the Democrats Claim 6,000 for Flower.

New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Business is suspended in nearly all parts of the city. During the morning everything proceeded quietly and no disturbances are reported. The day opened here bright and clear, and reports from all parts of the State show the weather favorable for a large vote. An unusually heavy vote is reported from all parts of the State.

After 9 o'clock the voting became slower, and at noon it was the opinion of the leaders of both parties that the number of votes cast up to that hour was considerably less than in previous elections.

HON. JACOB SLOAT FASSETT,
Republican nominee for Governor of New York.

4 P. M.—Of course nothing yet is known as to the result of to-day's election, but at this hour the workers gathered at Tammany Hall, on 14th street, appear to be most cheerful and confident. They say that Flower has carried this city by 100,000 and will have 6,000 majority in the whole State. The Republicans, however, claim Fassett will be elected by 17,000. Reports received at police headquarters from every election precinct in the city show the voting this afternoon to have been very heavy, and almost every person registered put his vote in before the polls closed.

SYRACUSE, Nov. 3.—At 12 o'clock upwards of three-fifths of the city's vote was polled.

ALBANY, Nov. 3.—The election here is proceeding quietly and it is believed a full vote will be polled in each district. Over half of the registered vote had been polled at 11 A. M.

HON. ROSWELL P. FLOWER,
Democratic nominee for Governor of New York.

BUFFALO, Nov. 3.—A heavy vote is being polled in this city and the Republicans are confident of carrying Buffalo and Erie county. The vote on the city ticket will probably be close. Sheehan is running considerably behind Flower in most of the wards.

BINGHAMPTON, Nov. 3.—Over half of the registered votes were polled before the noon rush, which indicates an unusually heavy vote.

TROY, Nov. 3.—Beautiful weather, a large vote and a quiet election; the most of the votes were polled before noon. Some arrests on charges of illegal voting have been made. The "physical disability" dodge is being worked extensively to get men into the booths with voters.

Ohio.

COLUMBUS (O.), Nov. 3.—The weather throughout the State is bright and cool and thus far every inducement for a big off-year vote is indicated. The city treasurership fight is bringing out a large vote in this city.

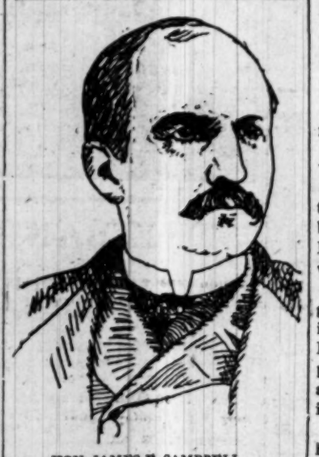
CLEVELAND, Nov. 3.—This is an ideal election day, the weather being overcast, but too cool for rain. The Australian system, which is being tried for the first time to-day, brought out voters early, and it is thought that by noon half the ballots will be in in many precints.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 3.—The weather is cool and the sky overcast. The new voting law does not seem to meet with universal favor. The vote is being gathered more slowly than usual.

MAJOR WILLIAM McKINLEY, JR.,
Republican nominee for Governor of Ohio.

Reports received at campaign headquarters at noon indicated a very large vote is being polled, notwithstanding the intricacies of the new law. It also appears that a greater number are voting for the straight party's ticket. Reports from various parts of the State all indicated an unusually full vote during the day.

This afternoon a light fall of snow and rain astonished everybody. It was not sufficient to have any effect on the voting. The general opinion at this hour, 2:30 P. M., is that the law disfranchises very few voters, and that its operation produces the most peaceful election ever witnessed in Cincinnati. There is no accurate method of knowing what record is being made in the ballot boxes, but the Republicans still claim with confidence an ever-



HON. JAMES E. CAMPBELL,
Democratic nominee for Governor of Ohio.
(Present incumbent.)

whelming plurality in Hamilton county.

TOLEDO, Nov. 3.—The weather is cool and favorable and the vote so far polled is very heavy. The Australian system works smoothly except in two or three large precincts.

CANTON, Nov. 3.—Early this morning Major McKinley voted a straight ticket. He was heartily cheered by those at the polls.

Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 3.—Chiefly on account of a large number of men engaged in threshing wheat in South Dakota the vote of that State is light. A great deal of "pairing" has been done by these men and it is doubtful whether that fact will affect the general result of the election. County Commissioners are being voted for, besides a Congressman to fill the vacancy caused by the death of James E. Gamble.

The weather so far as reported is fair. Both Republicans and Independents claim to be getting most of the votes, but the vote seems to be the most favorable to the former.

Maryland.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 3.—Election day is being kept as a legal holiday. The banks, exchanges, markets, stores and municipal, State and government offices are closed. The election is proceeding quietly.

Virginia.

WINCHESTER, Nov. 3.—The election is passing of quietly. More interest is being taken in the voting for the Republican anti-Mahone candidate for the House delegates than was anticipated.

Iowa.

DES MOINES, Nov. 3.—The interest taken in the election here is intense. The weather is raw and cloudy. A slight rain is reported in the southwestern part of the State, but it will not materially affect the vote. In the farming communities rain will probably increase the vote, as it will give the men an excuse to leave the corn fields.

Telegrams received by Republican and Democratic committees show that an unusually large vote is being cast. This is true of the county districts as well as of the cities. Both committees are claiming gains in the cities.

The Democrats especially assert that they will elect the whole ticket, basing their indications on the gains they are reported to be polling in the cities.

The Republicans are confident that they will hold their own in the cities and roll up an overwhelming majority in the country districts, where the Prohibition sentiment is strong. The Republicans are very confident about the Legislature. Reports received from the close Senatorial districts seem especially encouraging to them.

The People's party vote in Polk county is going to be lighter than anticipated, and reports from the outside counties indicate it will be the same in the State generally.

The Prohibition party vote will be the lightest ever known since the organization of the party.

The weather continues cloudy and threatening.

Massachusetts.

BOSTON Nov. 3.—The weather is clear and cold in all parts of the commonwealth and all the indications point to the polling of a heavy vote in the Massachusetts' State election to-day.

HON. CHARLES S. ALLEN,
Republican nominee for Governor of Massachusetts.

2 P. M.—Reports from all parts of the State show that a very full vote is being polled and both Democrats and Republicans appear confident of a victory.

Returns from the polls in this city give but little indication of the large increase reported in the registration. From all parts come reports that the polling is steadily going on without any unusual excitement or manifest interest.

At Lowell the voting is apparently heavier than last year.

At Lawrence a big vote is being polled and it is estimated that Russell will have at least 10,000 majority.

At Fall River the election is proceeding quietly and a large vote is being cast. The Republicans expect Allen will receive a much larger vote than Brackett did.

At all the polling places Russell's vote has been larger than last year, and his majority is variously estimated at from 8,500 to 16,000.

Reports from surrounding towns say a very full vote is being polled.

Nebraska.

OMAHA, Nov. 3.—The election is progressing very slowly owing to the Australian system which is being used for the first time. It requires from six to ten minutes for voters to prepare their ballots. As a consequence the vote will probably be light. Reports received up to noon indicate that the Republican State ticket is in the lead. The religious questions are playing a role in the municipal contest. The Catholic forces being pitted against the Anti-Catholic American Protective Association.

Colorado.

DENVER, Nov. 3.—The weather is cool and cloudy, and from present indications the vote polled in this city will be very heavy. Reports from outside towns are to the effect that unusual interest is being taken in the election. The Australian system is being tried to-day for the first time. Everthing so far is running smoothly.

Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 3.—The dispatches received from all parts of Kansas show that an orderly but hotly contested election is in progress. The real contest is between the Republicans and People's party.

Pennsylvania.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 3.—The election is proceeding quietly, the bright day bringing out a much larger vote than was anticipated and the indications are that a full vote will be polled. The peculiarity of the fight lies in the fact that the two old established political parties are in company, which generally are bitterly opposed to each other, working together hand in hand for the same ticket against the new movement known as the "Straight Outs."

South Dakota.

YANKTON, Nov. 3.—The weather is cloudy but warm. The election is very quiet under the Australian ballot system.

Jolley, the Republican candidate for Congress, is receiving a good vote here. Woods, the Democratic candidate, is second and Smith, the Independent, third.

Mississippi.

JACKSON, Nov. 3.—Favorable weather prevails throughout the State and the election as far as heard from is progressing quietly.

An Important Suit.

By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Associate Justice Brewer of the Supreme Court of the United States, sitting as a Circuit Justice, has begun the hearing of the argument in the case of the suit brought by the United States for the District of Nebraska against the Union Pacific Railroad Company and the Western Union Telegraph Company. The suit was brought by the Attorney-General, pursuant to the provisions of an act of Congress, known as the Anderson act, which compels all subsidized railroad companies which by law are required to construct, operate and maintain telegraph lines, to so construct, operate and maintain them as to furnish to connecting lines equal facilities for the transmission of business.

The government seeks to have declared void the contract beyond the co-operate competency of the railway company. The counsel for the Western Union filed an exhaustive brief containing a statement of their position in the matter. The counsel insists that the competency of the railroad company to enter into a contract with the telegraph company is re-enforced by the provisions of the general telegraph law originally enacted June 24th, 1866, and that for the purposes of the bill the defendants and the contract between them are not within the commands of the injunction and prohibitions of the Anderson act.

Petition to the General Land Office.

By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON (D. C.), Nov. 3.—Commissioner Carter of the General Land Office, received a petition signed by a large number of other prominent citizens, asking that the tract of land adjoining the Yellow Stone National Park, containing about 750,000 acres, including Lake Henry, be set apart as a permanent timber reserve. The matter has been placed in the hands of the special agent, who is instructed to examine and report upon the matter, and also as to the advisability of extending the reservation north into Montana, so as to embrace the country around the head waters of the Madison river.

Refused to Set Aside.

Special to the GAZETTE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—Judge Wallace to-day refused to set aside the indictment found by the Grand Jury against Bamberger & Kempfer, the insolvent wine merchants who, claim that the jury was not legally impanelled. They furthermore claimed that one of the Grand Jurors was biased, being a creditor of the firm. On the latter proposition Judge Wallace ruled that there was no evidence to that effect. Defendants were granted until to-morrow to file a demurrer to the indictment.

Denies Giving a Certificate.

By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 3.—Acting Secretary Spaulding received a letter from Francis B. Reeves of Philadelphia this morning, stating most emphatically that he had never given a certificate indorsed by Senator Quay and Bardsley to anyone, and that he had no knowledge of how it got into the possession of the Democratic State committee.

Palo Alto Lowers His Record Half a Second.

Palo Alto Lowers His Record.

Special to the GAZETTE.]

STOCKTON (Cal.), Nov. 3.—Palo Alto lowered his record half a second today, trotting a mile in 2:09¼, coming within a quarter of a second of the world's stallion record held by Allerton. Palo Alto was faster to-day than he ever has been on this track, and went away on each score at a great speed, giving Marvin hard work to hold him. He made two breaks, or he would have broken the record. He went to the quarter post in 32, to the half in 1:04 and the three-quarters in 1:36½, when he went off his feet, but caught quickly and came down the stretch at his best speed, but went up again just before reaching the wire, though he got in trotting. Everybody in the judge's stand said he would have equalled Allerton's time if he had not been so full of ambition. That he will do it yet nobody here doubts.

Bell Bird, the world's fastest yearling, was started by Marvin to beat her record of 2:26½, but she was not feeling well, and after a break was jogged around.

Maybrick Case.

By Cable and Associated Press.]

LONDON, Nov. 3.—In the Court of Appeals to-day the argument was resumed in the appeal of the executors of the will of Maybrick. Sir Edward Clarke, Attorney-General, in behalf of the defendants, resumed his argument this morning, saying, as the law did not permit the wife or any other representative of an insured person who committed suicide to recover the insurance money, the law could not allow a person to profit by his or her own criminal act.

Master of the Rolls, Lord Esher, in summing up, said he thought the true construction of the policy was, money should be paid to the executors in trust. If that was done and a receipt obtained, the respondents are not bound to see the trust fulfilled. After further argument judgment was reserved.

All Saved.

By Associated Press.]

VANCOUVER, Nov. 3.—The steamship Empress of Japan arrived this morning, 13 days, 7 hours from Yokohama. She brought Captain Tibbetts and eight of the crew of the schooner Kitsap of San Francisco. They sailed from Port Townsend July 4 with 1,000,000 feet of lumber for Shanghai; were wrecked September 9th at Borodino island. They remained on the island 27 days. The water and food gave out and the men suffered terribly. The captain, mate and two sailors left for the Loo Choo Islands, 180 miles away, where they were picked up by the steamer and taken to Hiogo. When passing the steamer rescued the remainder from Borodino and none were lost.

Publicly Horse-Whipped.

By Cable and Associated Press.]

DUBLIN, Nov. 3.—Mr. McDermott, a nephew of the late Mr. Parnell, today publicly horse-whipped Timothy Healy, the most bitter of the anti-Parnell leaders. The horse-whipping was a direct outcome of language used by Healy at Langford on Sunday last, when the anti-Parnell leader referred to Miss Parnell and to the widow of of the late Charles Stewart Parnell. Healy was rescued by the police, who arrested McDermott. Healy declined to make any charge against his assailant and McDermott was released.

U. S. Minister Married.

By Cable and Associated Press.]

LONDON, Nov. 3.—General E. Bird Grubb, United States Minister to Spain, was married this afternoon at St. Stephens church, this city, to Miss Violet Sopwith, eldest daughter of Thomas Sopwith. The best man was T. C. Broome, the Polo expert, and the bridesmaids were the six sisters of the bride, Miss Madge Mastiter, cousin of the bride, and Miss Effie Grubb, the daughter of the bridegroom by a former marriage. The ushers were six young gentlemen from Philadelphia, all members of the famous Philadelphia cavalry organization known as the city troop.

An Alabama Murder.

By Associated Press.]

GEORGIANA (Ala.), Nov. 3.—Last night Thomas Shepard and wife, a highly esteemed couple, residing two miles from here, were murdered. Their bodies were horribly butchered, the crime having apparently been committed with axes. Every trunk and drawer in the house was pillaged. The people are in a state of frenzy and a large force of men have been patrolling the country searching for the murderers.

THE Report says: Judge Wallace's Grand Jury is a perfect battery. No one knows at what moment another bombshell may be cast out of it into the boodlers' camp. Our only fear now is that the boodlers will suddenly stampede out of range. The latest bombshell is the discovery that a person summoned to testify as to legislative corruption cannot shelter himself behind the plea that to testify would be to criminate or humiliate himself. He must testify. He can console himself with the law's insurance that what he says will not be used against himself. But this is rather poor consolation, for, of course, what his fellow-boodlers may say about him will be as available against him as what he is saying about them is available against them. Senator W. H. Williams is in a peculiarly uncomfortable position.

CONGRESSMAN MILL' speeches to the voters of the old Bay State evidently did not pan out as well as expected, the idea of a representative of "the great manufacturing State of Texas" telling them how to run Massachusetts industries, not proving as acceptable as the Democratic Managers desired. The Boston Journal sums up the situation in the declaration that he was "about the last orator whom a sagacious management would have put upon the stump in a campaign like the present. We hailed his coming with delight and we regret his departure, for we are convinced that his appearance in the canvass was an element of weakness to the Democrats. Mr. Mills carries with him our best wishes that he may make as many Republican votes in Ohio as he has done in Massachusetts."

THE Candelaria Chloride Belt says: "John W. Mackay intends to, or his ambitious wife intends that he shall, make a fight next year for a seat in the United States Senate. John is not anxious to enter the contest; in fact, as he has received direct notice from the Southern Pacific people that they are opposed to him, he is hesitating. But while the railroad hostility is threatened, other influences are enthusiastic in his support, and it is almost certain that inside of thirty days his candidacy will be announced."

The GAZETTE takes no stock in the Belt's guess

THE smaller the dude the larger the chrysanthemum seems to be the motto this season at fashionable places. Never before have such floral eccentricities been observed in the attire of the masculine swell. It takes an immense amount of swagger to support a colored chrysanthemum of large size; and a swaggering dude is a spectacle to make gods and man roar with laughter. Wherefore let each man wear only the quantity of chrysanthemum that he can carry without becoming distinctly lop-sided.

THE latest sea serpent story comes from Australia. The captain of a coasting steamer reports seeing a sea monster seventy feet long, with a body like that of a whale. The captain would have enjoyed examining it scientifically, but for prudential reasons he let the monster alone. So this mystery of the sea still remains unexplained and the skeptical will persist in ascribing it to too heavy rations of grog.

THEY have a law in Louisville now requiring every father of a new baby to report the birth to an official. But the difficulty may be that not all fathers will, even under pain of punishment, be willing to confess themselves. If the Louisville authorities want accurate statistics, they should apply the rigor of the law to mothers—they cannot escape.

SENATOR QUAY of Pennsylvania has instructed his counsel to commence suit in Phil delphia against James Kerr, Chairman of the Democratic State Committee for $100,000. Kerr is to be charged with libel.

FROM THE MOON.

Appearance of the Earth as Viewed from the Lunar World.

It is evident that to a lunar observer the disk of earth appears to be equal to about sixteen areas of the solar disk, says the New York Times. The solar disk, as seen from earth, is on an average equal to the lunar disk seen from the same point, for, in a solar eclipse, the disk of the moon covers the sun as in an annular eclipse. Therefore the apparent size of the bodies must average about equal in size to a terrestrial observer. Again, the solar disk will appear to the lunar observer just equal to what it seems to be when seen from earth, because the distance from the sun to the moon averages equal to the distance from the sun to earth. Furthermore, the diameter of the earth is equal to about four lunar diameters, and of course the area of their disks vary as the square of their radii, and this makes the terrestrial disk about equal to sixteen lunar disks, and, of course, if the lunar disk is equal to the solar disk at a given distance, then the terrestrial disk will seem to be about sixteen times as great at the same distance.

This enormous disk of earth must be blue in color to the lunar observer, because earth's atmosphere is blue, and all things seen through it seem blue. Even interstellar space seems blue through this medium, and the unilluminated parts of the moon cannot be distinguished from the space that abuts it. Bright, direct and reflected light is not affected appreciably by its passage through our atmosphere; therefore, stars, moonlight and distant illuminations are not noticeably blue from that cause.

WHY PEOPLE MARRY.

Some Queer Reasons Advanced by Different People.

Though it is very common to reproach old bachelors with their celibacy, and to pity old maids as if single blessedness were a misfortune, says London Tid-Bits, yet many married people have seen fit to offer apologies for having entered into what some profane wag has called the "holy bands of padlock." One man says he got married to get a housekeeper, another to get rid of bad company.

Many women declare they got married for the sake of a home; few acknowledge that their motive was to get a husband. Goethe averred that he got married in order to be "respectable." John Wilkes said he took a wife "to please his friends." Wycherly, who espoused his housemaid, said he did it to "spite his relations."

A widow who married a second husband said she wanted somebody to condole with her for the loss of her first. Another, because she thought a wedding would "amuse the children." Another, to get rid of incessant importunity from a crowd of suitors.

Old maids who get married invariably assure their friends that they thought they could be "more useful" as wives than as spinsters. Nevertheless Quilp gives it as his opinion that nine-tenths of all persons who marry, whether widows or widowers, spinsters or bachelors, do so for the sake of getting married.

SUMMER SLEEP OF ANIMALS.

The Hot Season Spent in a State of Inactivity.

Many animals pass the cold season of the year in sleep, while the similar phenomenon of a summer sleep is known in serpents and crocodiles of tropical regions. Even in the temperate zones, it appears, there are reptiles and amphibious animals that spend the hot days in sleep. According to Dr. Franz Werner, these animals will be seen in July and August in noticeably fewer numbers than during the spring; and search will reveal them, in a condition very similar to sleep, hidden under stones, brush or leaves, or in the edges of marshes and ponds. The frogs sit huddled together and make no attempt to flee. Lizards and salamanders lie almost motionless, with their tails over their heads; and snakes are coiled in spirals, with the head concealed. Unlike that of the land animals, the summer sleep of the water animals is not always at the time of the greatest heat, but occurs only when their usual dwelling place is dried up. Contrary to general supposition, reptiles do not always thrive best in hot weather, but many, such as lizards and snakes, succumb very quickly under a hot sun, and only turtles can bear the exposure for any considerable time. The summer sleep of these animals varies with the character of the hot season, and does not appear at all in animals kept in a comparatively even temperature in captivity.

Too Emphatic.

During a session of the house of commons the members wear their hats, which they remove when rising to speak or to make a motion. This custom is occasionally the cause of a comical scene, like the one reported in Sir William Fraser's "Disraeli and his Day." William Ewart, the member for Liverpool, was making an effective speech, and on the bench just below him sat Joseph Hume, a radical, whose aspect was that of intense solemnity. He wore a hat with a broad brim and a long nap, which apparently was too large for his large head. Ewart, while emphasizing his last sentence, brought his right fist down with crushing violence upon Hume's hat, which instantly descended below Hume's chin and obscured his heavy features. The house, which had been listening with interest, roared with laughter, and the orator sat down abashed by the incident that had spoiled the effect of his speech.

The Banana Supply.

It is not without good reason that the banana has become so popular in recent years. For it is said to possess in itself all the essentials to the sustenance of life for both man and beast. It belongs to the lily family, and is a developed tropical lily, from which by ages of cultivation the seeds have been eliminated and the fruit for which it is cultivated greatly expanded. In relation to the bearing qualities of this fruit, Humboldt, who early saw the wonders of the plants, said that the ground that would grow 90 pounds of potatoes would grow 33 pounds of wheat, but that the same ground would grow 4,000 pounds of bananas, consequently to that of wheat is 133 to 1 and to that of potatoes 44 to 1.

There is None Better.

Dr. R. L. St. John of Howland, Putnam county, Missouri, takes especial pleasure in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, because he knows it to be reliable. He has used it in his practice for several years, and says there is none better. It is especially valuable for colds and is a preventive and cure for croup. This most excellent medicine is for sale by J. B. McCullough, Druggist.

A Great Liver Medicine

Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills are a sure cure for sick headache, bilious complaints, dyspepsia, indigestion, costiveness, torpid liver, etc. These pills insure perfect digestion, correct the liver and stomach, regulate the bowels, purify and enrich the blood and make the skin clear. They also produce a good appetite and invigorate and strengthen the entire system by their tonic action. Sold at 25 cents a box by S. J. Hodgkinson.

Coming to Stay.

The terrible aggravated form of influenza which physicians on the continent of Europe designate as "la grippe," seems to have effected a permanent lodgment this side of the Atlantic. It makes its reappearance as soon as the cold weather sets in, and not infrequently during the summer months. In the spring it is rampant. Nothing checks its first attack, or so effectually counteracts its subsequent ravages, as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The fortifying, invigorating influence of that beneficient tonic protects the system against the dangers which beset a feeble physique and a weekly constitution consequent upon abrupt transitions of temperature. It diffuses a genial warmth through the diaphragm, which is the best corrective or preventive for a chill, and is a means of neutralizing the effect of exposure in damp, or rigorous weather. In dyspepsia, liver complaint, costiveness, rheumatism malarial and kidney troubles it is never resorted to without good results

A NEW TRICK.

It is Introduced in Sacramento by a Brace of Cunning Female Pickpockets.

The Record-Union says: A couple of gentlemen had a little experience on Saturday night that is causing them considerable good-natured chaffing by their friends. They were on their way home, about 10 o'clock, when they were confronted by a couple of well-dressed, jolly young women, who sought to engage them in conversation.

At first the gentlemen waved them off, but the women tried to be confidential, if not affectionate. Being a little off-color, however, the young men did not relish these demonstrations, but the women caught hold of them, laughing and skylarking as they did so.

The young men finally got away from them, but before going far discovered that in the scuffle each had had his pocket picked.

They hastened back and reported the case to Captain Lee. From the description given, the Captain and Officer Lowell soon found the women, who had in the meantime exchanged their hats and wraps for others. A search of their premises failed to disclose the results of their raid, but the officers found plenty of other articles which indicated that the women had not failed to improve their opportunities.

They strenuously denied having ever seen the Sacramento gentlemen before, but are held for further developments. They are newcomers here, having lately arrived from Virginia City, but admit having been in Salt Lake, Ogden and other towns of the far West. They are evidently experts in their line.

Late last night one of the women confessed to the charge, and there is no doubt that the articles will be recovered.

A BOOKKEEPING STORY.

A Case Wherein a Fly Speck Made a Big Difference.

In one of our large establishments connected with the iron industry, says the Philadelphia Record, there occurred recently an apparent discrepancy in the accounts involving a matter of 3,000 pounds of scrap iron. The clerks in the department were set to work to unravel the tangled skein, and after they had expended two whole days in the search they were compelled to give up the task and pronounced it beyond their comprehension. Thus matters stood for several days.

Several days later the office boy decided to keep himself in practice in addition by footing up a column of figures on a sheet which was lying on a desk beside him in the scrap iron department. Bending his energies to the task he got along swimmingly with the units, tens and hundreds columns, but when he came to the fourth column he could not make it agree with the footings set down. Again and again he tried it and with the same result—3,000 less. Going over the figures one by one his attention was drawn to a queer-looking one. A fly speck was beside it in such a position as to make it appear like a four, and as such it had been counted by each of the clerks in the department. The boy had earned his promotion, and he got it.

A LAUGHING FESTIVAL.

"Skipped by the Light of the Moon."

"Skipped by the Light of the Moon," is the title of a play that seems somehow to be suggestive of the raciest. This piece will be presented in a revised form at the Opera House on next Monday night, and it is needless to say that the house is likely to be crowded. People at the present time want to laugh, and "Skipped" is funny from the ground up.

An Eastern exchange says: The play "Skipped by the Light of the Moon," as produced at the Opera House last night, was the most uproariously funny piece that has ever been presented here. It is full of comical situations and sparkling dialogues, and is one of the best of the kind that the public are now demanding. The audience, which was a large one, tittered and giggled and screamed for two successive hours, and the applause at times was deafening.

Beautiful Sentiments.

George D. Prentice once wrote, "It cannot be that earth is man's abiding place. It cannot be that life is a mere bubble, cast up to eternity to float a moment on its waves and then sink back into mere nothingness. Else why is it that all the glorious aspirations which leap like eagles from the temples of our hearts are forever wandering away unsatisfied? Why is it that all the stars that hold their festivals around the midnight throne are set above the grasp of our limited faculties, forever mocking us with their unapproachable glory? And finally, why is it that the forms of human beauty presented to our view are taken from us, leaving the tendrils and streams of our affection to float out in alphine torrents upon our hearts? There is a realm where the rainbow never fades, where the stars will be spread out before us like the islands that slumber in the ocean; and where beings that now pass before us like shadows, will stand in our presence forever."

County Commissioners.

The Commissioners met yesterday and allowed the regular monthly bills a list of which will be found in the GAZETTE'S advertising columns.

The bids for the construction of a cistern on the plaza in front of the court house were opened and were as follows: Richard Ryland, $399; Burke Bros., $475. The contract was awarded to Mr. Ryland.

Are Your Children Subject to Croup.

As a preventive and cure for croup, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has no rival. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant and safe to take. There is not the least danger in giving it to children, as it contains no injurious substance. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by J. B. McCullough, Druggist.

THE CANDELARIA MINES.

The Reported Sale of the O K Group.

The Candelaria Chloride Belt says: The Belt learns from a reliable source that an offer has been made for the O K group of mines by San Francisco parties, and that Messrs. Ingalls and Stewart are liable to dispose of the property. We have published from time to time accounts of development as it has progressed upon the claims of the group, and having made a personal inspection of the property, don't hesitate to pronounce it one of the most promising in the district. Its location upon the main lode or ledge of the district, its close proximity to the Mt. Diablo, as well as the fact that the group lies directly east not only of the Mt. Diablo Company's mines, but those of the Candelaria Company's also, are arguments in favor of the property. In this district Bishop Berkeley's famous saying is reversed. Here it goes "Eastward the Star of the Empire," etc., and with the Candelaria folks developing the Belden and adjacent properties and a good California company pushing things on the O K group, times promise to be lively in the neighborhood of American flat during the coming year.

The Van Meter Boy.

Dr. Patterson said to a GAZETTE reporter Friday night that the Van Meter children were doing nicely and that he had hopes of their ultimate recovery. What he said was published Saturday, but by an oversight it got into the paper again last night. Sunday night septicaemia (blood poisoning) set in and the child died this morning. Since Sunday Dr. Patterson had no hope of the child's recovery, but Friday, when he told a GAZETTE reporter that the children were doing nicely, he had hopes. The disease had left the boy, but he was so weak and in such an exhausted condition that he had to go.

Accident in the Crown Point.

Yesterday afternoon says the Enterprise Thomas Smith, President of the Virginia Miners' Union, was severely hurt while at work in the Crown Point mine. A large rock, weighing several hundred pounds, rolled against one of his legs and pushed it against the timbers on a side of the drift he was working in. The limb was badly cut and bruised, and the injury will lay him up for a while. Dr. Boyes, who attended him, says the injury will hardly result seriously, however. It is only a short time since Mr. Smith had the other leg hurt, and it is not entirely well yet. He has been very unfortunate of late, as in addition to the accidents which have befallen him he has been ill, and there has been much illness in his family.

Cables.

A prominent cable-car line official in Pittsburg said recently: "The ropes on cable cars are, as a rule, sold as soon as they are put it. The rope upon which we are traveling was sold several weeks ago. The old ropes are sold for inclines, elevators, etc. They are better for that purpose than if they were new. They have become so thoroughly soaked with oil and tar, and so stretched, that they are seasoned. They will never wear out on inclines or elevators, because there is no strain on them compared with that of a cable road, and they have been tested so that they may be relied on. After they have been in use a short time on the cable roads, and before they show signs of wear, they are replaced by new ones."

What They are Good For.

Brandreth's Pills are the best medicine known.

First—They are purely vegetable, in fact a medicated food.

Second—The same dose always produces the same effect—other purgatives require increased doses and finally cease acting.

Third—They purify the blood.

Fourth—They invigorate the digestion and cleanse the stomach and bowels.

Fifth—They stimulate the liver and carry off vitiated bile and other depraved secretions.

The first two or three doses tell the story. The skin becomes clear, the eyes bright, and mind active, digestion is restored, costiveness cured, the animal vigor is recruited and all decay arrested.

Brandreth's Pills are sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

QUAINT EASTPORT.

The Far-East Town That Was the Scene of a Recent International Episode.

Eastport, the scene of the recent seizure of American fishing boats by a dominion cruiser, is not, as is popularly supposed, the most easterly town in the United States, as a part of Lubec extends about a mile farther toward the sunrise, but it is far enough east to be commonly known as "the jumping-off place," and it is an old and interesting town. Eastport, says the New York Sun, occupies the whole of Moose island, which is connected with the mainland by a bridge twelve hundred feet in length and separated from the queen's dominions by picturesque Passamaquoddy bay. Moose island is about two miles wide by five miles long, and Eastport village is situated at its southeastern extremity upon a harbor which is open the year round, never having been closed by ice. Eastport has suffered more from disastrous fires than any other town in Maine, having been practically wiped out three times within the past half century. In 1839 the business section was swept away by the flames, and this was repeated in 1864, when two hundred and fifty thousand dollars' worth of property was burned up. Again, in 1886, the town was visited by a conflagration which destroyed one hundred and sixty-two buildings, causing a loss of eight hundred thousand dollars. The people, however, soon rebuilt their town, this time in a more substantial manner than before, when nearly all the buildings were of wood. Eastport is to-day a handsome town of something over five thousand inhabitants, the greater part of whom are connected in one way or another with the fishing industry, and all of whom seem to prosper better than the average of mankind. This is the great center of that interesting industry whose product is "little fishes biled in ile"—the sardine business. Here, annually, millions of small herring are boiled, spiced and packed in oil in little tin boxes covered all over with artistic French inscriptions—and they are just as good as any sardines, if you only want to think so, and ninety-nine people in one hundred don't know the difference. If fine scenery could be boxed up and sold like little herring Eastport would soon be as rich as New York. The whole place seems designed by nature for a summer residence, and when Gen. Butler was down there he declared that if the people who built Bar Harbor could have seen Eastport first the great resort of the nabobs would have been located at Passamaquoddy instead of on Frenchman's bay.

THE CORAL POLYP.

They Build at the Rate of One Inch in Six Months.

The coral animal can be tamed. I believe I am the first person in the world who ever accomplished the result, says George L. Bancroft. Here is a piece I found on a Florida reef. I was anxious to learn how fast the coral grows, so I placed it in water where I could visit it every week and note the change. When I first visited the specimen the polyps would dart into their cells. After several visits they became so bold as to remain outside, and finally our acquaintance ripened until they would go on their work while I remained a watcher. I have stood by the hour watching the little fellows at work. They taught me that the claim of scientific men that the coral does not grow more than one inch in one hundred years is the sheerest nonsense. My pets builded an inch in six months. How do they work? Well, that is a rather difficult question to answer. The little animal is a sack; that is, his stomach is the biggest part of him. He is a compound animal, and increases by germination, young polyps springing from the original polyp. The upper surface is arrayed with tentacles, and the body is separated by a number of partitions that extend from the stomach to the outer skin. Between these walls the carbonate of lime is deposited.

PUT DOWN AS A HOSIER.

Amusing Incident Apropos of James Whitcomb Riley's Reputation Abroad.

James Whitcomb Riley went abroad recently, and on the vessel coming back volunteered for the regular ship's concert for the benefit of destitute mariners, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. He read a number of his poems, which were rapturously received by everybody present with the exception of two very stolid Englishmen in the front row. The following conversation ensued between them later on in the smoking room:

"I say, Arthur, what was that chap's name who read the verses?"

"Aw, that's Wilcox Riley—he's quite clever tradesman."

"Bless me, who'd 'a' thought it! I heard he was a literary chap and all that sort of thing."

"No, I'm told he's a hosier."

"You don't say so? Really, now, what a pity it is that a man like him should be tied down to a shop."

And this is what it is to be the Hoosier poet.

A Countess Cook.

Like most wives of great men, Countess von Moltke was devoted to her brave husband's comfort. During their travels in Italy the lady went into the kitchen and prepared with her own hands all the food eaten by the old hero, who would rather face the cannon's mouth than an Italian meal. He was fond of exhibiting to his friends what he called his wife's Italian costume—a gray linen blouse and skirt and an immense cotton apron—in which the good frau spent most of her time in the Roman kitchens, while the American wife would have been viewing the churches of the Eternal city.

A Miraculous Transaction.

Matching the stories of valuable and unappreciated oil paintings sold for a song is one concerning a miraculous transaction in Sevres china. Early in the past century a gentleman presented a reverend friend with two vases as a wedding present. These vases stood for more than forty years on a cabinet in a Somersetshire rectory, without attracting any particular notice, until a sale took place after the owner's death, at which they were bought for two guineas by a tradesman in Bath. Within a week they resold for six hundred guineas to a Bond street dealer, who speedily disposed of them to the late Lord Derby for four thousand guineas.

Great Piece of Masonry.

The distinction is now said to belong to Bombay of possessing the greatest piece of solid masonry construction that the world has seen in modern times. It appears that for years past the water supply of Bombay depended upon works known to be defective, involving the possibility of a water famine in that great eastern seaport, and in view of this a consultation of eminent engineers was held under the direction of the government, with the result that a large dam was determined on to inclose the watershed of the valley which drains into the sea south of Bombay. This gigantic structure, designed and soon [illegible] the superior engineering skill of T. C. Glover, is two miles long, 115 feet in height and 103 feet wide at the base, with a roadway on the top 24 feet wide, the stonework alone [illegible]. The lake of water [illegible] is some eight miles [illegible], and 60 miles of pipe [illegible] service. Twelve thousand [illegible] were specially trained by Engineer Glover for employment on this dam.

The Moonstone Hoax.

It is said that the moonstone hoax has made its reappearance. The method is so old and so well known that it is a wonder to jewelers that it has survived to this time. The hunter for moonstones finds a white and almost transparent pebble. He takes it to a lapidary who is conveniently near by, who says it is a very fine moonstone, and that he will polish and finish it nicely for one dollar. The pebble is left to be polished, and at the time appointed the finder calls, pays the lapidary the dollar and receives the genuine moonstone which has cost the lapidary forty cents. The lapidary has sixty cents profit, the finder has a real moonstone and the beach has the pebble, which awaits picking up by some other dupe.

Pat's Challenge.

"Will any gentleman thread on the tail av me coat?" is derived from the legend—probably apocryphal—of old Donnybrook fair, describing the conventionally pugnacious Irishman as with "caubeen" adorned with "dhudheen" stuck in the band on his head, and in his shirt sleeves twirling a shillelagh with his right hand, while his left trails his denuded coat on the "flure" of a tent after him, asserting his disgust at the apparently peaceful proclivities of his fellows, and shouting the valiant challenge: "Past tin o'clock and not a blow shtruck yet. Will any gentleman oblige me by threading on the tail av me coat?"

"German Syrup"

A Throat and Lung Specialty.

Those who have not used Boschee's German Syrup for some severe and chronic trouble of the Throat and Lungs can hardly appreciate what a truly wonderful medicine it is. The delicious sensations of healing, easing, clearing, strength-gathering and recovering are unknown joys. For German Syrup we do not ask easy cases. Sugar and water may smooth a throat or stop a tickling—for a while. This is as far as the ordinary cough medicine goes. Boschee's German Syrup is a discovery, a great Throat and Lung Specialty. Where for years there have been sensitiveness, pain, coughing, spitting, hemorrhage, voice failure, weakness, slipping down hill, where doctors and medicine and advice have been swallowed and followed to the gulf of despair, where there is the sickening conviction that all is over and the end is inevitable, there we place German Syrup. It cures. You are a live man yet if you take it.

A Necessity.

The consumption of tea largely increases every year in England, Russia, and the principal European tea-drinking countries. But it does not grow in America. And not alone that, but thousands of Europeans who leave Europe ardent lovers of tea, upon arriving in the United States gradually discontinue its use, and finally cease it altogether.

This state of things is due to the fact that the Americans think so much of business and so little of their palates that they permit China and Japan to ship them their cheapest and most worthless teas. Between the wealthy classes of China and Japan and the exacting and cultivated tea-drinkers of Europe, the finer teas find a ready market. The balance of the crop comes to America. Is there any wonder, then, that our taste for tea does not appreciate?

In view of these facts, is there not an immediate demand for the importation of a brand of tea that is guaranteed to be uncolored, unmanipulated, and of absolute purity? We think there is, and present Beech's Tea. Its purity is guaranteed in every respect. It has, therefore, more inherent strength than the cheap teas you have been drinking, fully one third less being required for an infusion. This you will discover the first time you make it. Likewise, the flavor is delightful, being the natural flavor of an unadulterated article. It is a revelation to tea-drinkers. Sold only in packages bearing this mark:
